

HARRISON'S CORNER

By: Harrison Termotto, Teaching Assistant

G-D has given all of us a countless number of extraordinary belongings that we take for granted everyday. They are the important items in our lives that we do not notice. Every night one must go to sleep so they retire to their bed. A lot of people fail to realize that there are thousands that do not have such a luxury. They are lacking the luxury of a nice house, a bed and many other things, too numerous to count. If one looks around their room, or any room of the house, one could probably count a hundred possessions to be grateful for. G-D has given all of us so much to be grateful for so next time you're having a bad day just look around and notice all of the wonderful items G-D has blessed you with.
