

Simchat HaLev Needs Your Help!

Simchat HaLev congregants care about each other, the community, and our world. How? By demonstrating kindness with a caring heart, generosity, and helpfulness, by supporting one another as we face life's challenges, and by celebrating important moments. As a community of faith, we reach out to help our neighbors as we are taught: "You shall not oppress the stranger for you know the experience of having yourself been a stranger in the land of Egypt." As a congregation, we partner with G-d to repair our world by getting personally involved. Through prayer, volunteering, giving tzedakah, spreading love, compassion and peace, smiles and hugs, and in the fight for social justice, we show G-d we understand what it means to be a community that cares. Help is help others. Volunteers are needed. Let us all put our words and intentions into action. G-d needs your help. Get Involved. Meet New friends. Do a mitzvah.

I am unable to volunteer my time. Instead, I want to perform the mitzvah of providing financial support to the efforts of Congregation Simchat HaLev.
